Nicolaus Copernicus (1473–1543) was a mathematician and astronomer who proposed that the sun was stationary in the center of the universe and the earth revolved around it.

Nicolaus Copernicus (Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy)

Heliocentrism is the astronomical model in which the Earth and planets revolve around the Sun at the center of the Solar System. Historically, heliocentrism was opposed to geocentrism, which placed the Earth at the center. The notion that the Earth revolves around the Sun had been proposed as early as the 3rd century BC by Aristarchus of Samos, but at least in the medieval world, Aristarchus's ...

Chapter 5: Goldilocks and the Trojan Horse – Creating and Maintaining Coalitions. When you try to gather support for your new idea, you need to strike a Goldilocks zone in radicalism – radical enough to stand for something and not be tepid, but conservative enough to avoid alienating a mainstream audience. People external to the movement tend to identify it with its most radical position ...

•NICHOLAS OF CUSA (1401-1464): FIRST MODERN PHILOSOPHER?•

Models of the Universe are described and classified into three major categories: Historic, Expanding, and Cellular. It is shown that all expanding universe models violate the cosmic edge and containment principle. The multi-millennium conflict between the two major world views --the changing dynamic universe and the unchanging stable universe-- is highlighted.
