

Cmaa Crane Classification A Brief Overview Class A

CMAA Crane Classification - A Brief Overview
As the project manager, you will be responsible for the following:
- Planning, organizing, and controlling the project.
- Establishing a clear vision of the project's goals and objectives.
- Defining the project's scope, budget, and timeline.
- Identifying the project's risks and developing a risk management plan.
- Communicating effectively with the project team and stakeholders.
- Monitoring and controlling the project's progress.
- Closing the project and evaluating the project's performance.

Class A (Standard or Independent Services)
The crane operator must have a minimum of 10 years of experience in either handing or long line work between 400 and 1000 lbs. Capacity loads may be handled in a crane's rated capacity. The crane operator must have a minimum of 10 years of experience in the crane's rated capacity. The crane operator must have a minimum of 10 years of experience in the crane's rated capacity.
This is the lightest crane and is the only crane that can be used for handing and long line work.

Class B (Light Services)
The crane operator must have a minimum of 10 years of experience in either handing or long line work between 400 and 1000 lbs. Capacity loads may be handled in a crane's rated capacity. The crane operator must have a minimum of 10 years of experience in the crane's rated capacity. The crane operator must have a minimum of 10 years of experience in the crane's rated capacity.
This is the lightest crane and is the only crane that can be used for handing and long line work.

Class C (Medium Services)
The crane operator must have a minimum of 10 years of experience in either handing or long line work between 400 and 1000 lbs. Capacity loads may be handled in a crane's rated capacity. The crane operator must have a minimum of 10 years of experience in the crane's rated capacity. The crane operator must have a minimum of 10 years of experience in the crane's rated capacity.
This is the lightest crane and is the only crane that can be used for handing and long line work.

Class D (Heavy Services)
The crane operator must have a minimum of 10 years of experience in either handing or long line work between 400 and 1000 lbs. Capacity loads may be handled in a crane's rated capacity. The crane operator must have a minimum of 10 years of experience in the crane's rated capacity. The crane operator must have a minimum of 10 years of experience in the crane's rated capacity.
This is the lightest crane and is the only crane that can be used for handing and long line work.

Class E (Special Services)
The crane operator must have a minimum of 10 years of experience in either handing or long line work between 400 and 1000 lbs. Capacity loads may be handled in a crane's rated capacity. The crane operator must have a minimum of 10 years of experience in the crane's rated capacity. The crane operator must have a minimum of 10 years of experience in the crane's rated capacity.
This is the lightest crane and is the only crane that can be used for handing and long line work.

CMAA CRANE CLASSIFICATION A BRIEF OVERVIEW CLASS A