

Determinants Of Export Performance Of Pakistan Evidence

Journal of Business Finance & Accounting
Vol. 37, No. 4, pp. 475-494, 2010
© Emerald Group Publishing Limited, ISSN 0275-6688
Determination of Commercial Banks Profitability
Evidence from Pakistan

Dr. Nadeem Anjum
Dr. Nadeem Anjum, Ph.D., is an Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Business Administration, University of Karachi, Pakistan. He has published several research papers in international journals. His research interests include financial performance, profitability, and risk management.

Abstract
The purpose of this study is to investigate the determinants of commercial bank profitability in Pakistan. The study uses a panel data approach to analyze the relationship between profitability and various determinants such as size, capitalization, and risk management. The results show that profitability is positively related to size and capitalization, and negatively related to risk management. The study also finds that profitability is higher for banks with a larger market share and a higher capital ratio.

Keywords
Commercial banks, profitability, determinants, Pakistan, panel data, risk management, capitalization, size, market share, capital ratio.

DETERMINANTS OF EXPORT PERFORMANCE OF PAKISTAN EVIDENCE

determinants of export performance pdf

Determinants of Export Performance BAR, Curitiba, v. 8, n. 2, art. 1, pp.107-132, Apr./June 2011

www.anpad.org.br/bar

Determinants of Export Performance: a Study of Large

X is the $\text{€} \text{€} \text{€}$ enterprise $\text{€} \text{€} \text{€}$ financial performance during a reporting period, $\text{€} \text{€} \text{€}$ which SFAC No. 1 states is what earnings, a primary focus of financial reporting, should represent. $\text{€} \text{€} \text{€}$ The function f represents the accounting system that converts the unobservable X into observable earnings. One implication of this definition is that earnings, and the decision usefulness of earnings, is a ...

Understanding earnings quality: A review of the proxies

Asset allocation is the rigorous implementation of an investment strategy that attempts to balance risk versus reward by adjusting the percentage of each asset in an investment portfolio according to the investor's risk tolerance, goals and investment time frame. The focus is on the characteristics of the overall portfolio. Such a strategy contrasts with an approach that focuses on individual ...

Asset allocation - Wikipedia

Emotional labor is the process of managing feelings and expressions to fulfill the emotional requirements of a job. More specifically, workers are expected to regulate their emotions during interactions with customers, co-workers and superiors.